Flotronic Pumps 'SERVICE DEPARTMENT'

Flotronic's care for our customers continues throughout the product's working lifetime. As well as technical support from head office, we have experienced, fully trained Service Engineers, covering the whole of the UK, equipped with mobile workshops and genuine Flotronic spare parts for our entire pump range. Having regular, routine service work is key in preventing the vast majority of system failures and prolongs the economic working life of the pumps.

Our engineers are available to assist on site with the following:-

- Commissioning
- Overhaul and repairs
- Fault diagnostics/system problems
- Planned maintenance agreements for single or multi-user sites using our successful Customer Support Guarantees

'Customer Support Guarantee'

To maintain the performance and reliability of Flotronic pump equipment, we have developed annual Customer Support Guarantee packages (details and prices inside), offering a wide choice of service options designed to suit your own company's individual requirements. These packages include; regular service visits, guaranteed on site assistance within a specified time limit, free of charge maintenance training and standby pumps in emergency cases. If you require further information or a specific quote please contact us.

For customers wishing to undertake their own maintenance, Flotronic offer a full range of spare parts, repair kits and any other necessary service tools. In addition, we can provide full on site CE maintenance training to assist your own engineers.
